

Doctoral training

ENTPE supervises PhDs awarded by the University of Lyon. Under this framework, renewed on 1 January 2016, the School admits and supervises around 100 PhD students, mainly in the following 3 scientific fields: engineering sciences, social sciences and environmental sciences.

Doctoral training, with 40 PhD’s awarded in 2016 and 2017, has thus become a key activity for ENTPE, the School for engineers and doctors in civil, environmental and urban engineering.

PhD students benefit from top level scientific infrastructure, networks and skills through the School research partnership in France and internationally.

/// Enrolment

Enrolment takes place in two stages: academic enrolment and administrative enrolment. Enrolment must be renewed each year, even if you plan to present your thesis before the end of the year.

>> Enrolment fee: €380

>> Contribution to Student Life and Campus (CVEC)

This makes it possible to provide useful day-to-day services in your institution and student services building (Crous). More information about the CVEC

Each doctoral student must pay this mandatory contribution of €91 before enrolling. Proof of payment will be requested upon enrolment. Depending on your situation, you may be exempt. Where to complete this formality?

Enrolment is managed at ENTPE by Sonia Cenille.
