

The next generation of sustainable, resilient and smart roads

→ Prof. M.Carmen Rubio-Gómez
University of Granada

“ The development of high-quality road infrastructure has shaped modern society, making it more accessible and connected. In the last decade, all efforts that are currently being undertaken by the various stakeholders involved are working to achieve smart and resilient pavements, thus creating more sustainable and economically vibrant communities. ”

08/11/23

13h à 14h

Amphi du bas

